Building Resilience at Every Tier: From Core to Intensive

This workshop will review the science of the brain and nervous system and how our bodies work when under chronic stress/trauma, particularly how this impacts education. The focus of this workshop will be to introduce a variety of resiliency skills and how they are implemented in schools across the tiers. Participants will learn and practice skills to implement for themselves as a means of self-care and acquire strategies to implement at Core, Supplemental, and Intensive levels throughout the school.

Instructor(s): Denise Smith, Michelle Butler, Deborah Luckett

Participants will get .6 CEUs

Special Assistance: Any individuals requesting accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act should contact the support staff before the training.
